

The Will Checklist

Take yourself through the below set of questions. Did you answer yes to any?

Are you married?

Your spouse or civil partner may not automatically inherit all of your estate if you don't have a will!

Do you have children?

Your children may not automatically inherit if you don't have a will! have a will!

Do you have a partner?

Despite having a partner, the law will treat you as single, which means without a will your partner would inherit nothing!

Do you own property?

Surely you want to decide who takes your property or lives in it once you have passed away? Without a will you lose this right to decide!

Do own a business?

Without a will, your business or shares in the business may not pass to those you want it to!

Do you have grandchildren?

Your grandchildren may inherit nothing if you don't have a will!

Do you have children from a previous relationship?

If you are married, children from previous relationships will inherit nothing if you don't have a will!

Does anybody depend on you financially?

Depending on who those people that depend on you are, they may inherit nothing if you don't have a will!

Do you really want somebody else to decide what happens to your hard earned assets?

If you answered yes to any of these questions then you definitely need a will!

It's too easy to put off writing a will although it's equally as easy to get a will drafted by the experts at Life Choice Legal.

Get in touch now to arrange your home visit.